OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

THOSE THUMBNAIL descriptions of cities or other places of interest that appear in periodicals often give residents of those same spots a chuckle or two...

That came to mind recently when we were glancing through a reference book on our desk entitled, "CALIFORNIA information and ALMANAC".

The issue of the "almanac" was published in 1959, so it is pretty much out-dated by now, especially as to population.

In the section devoted to "cities" this brief note about Campbell appeared:

"Campbell (County of Santa Clara). Inc. 1952. 6th Class City. Population 8,500. Mayor-Council System. Packing Plants, Canneries, Metal Industry."

THAT DESCRIPTION OF our city could have applied before the 1950's but by 1958 (the date of the book) we doubt if there was a cannery or packing plant operating within the city limits.

We were also intrigued by the term "metal industry".

That seems to imply that steel companies were flourishing in the city.

We don't recall in the 13 years or so that we have been around these parts that the "metal industry" had any role in this community's life.

COULD IT BE THAT IT was sort of prophetic?

The most exciting civic issue to have ever hit this town really does concern the metal industry.

We mean, of course, that 17-story steel superstructure that was fabricated for a building that did not materialize by the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co. some years ago and has been in storage since.

A dramatic proposal has been submitted by Fred Sahadi that would locate that 17-story building on the former Brynteson Ranch at Campbell and Bascom Avenues. The first five floors would become this city's civic center.

That is really the only thing about the "metal industry" that we can recall involving Campbell, despite that paragraph in the almanac.

-0-

JUST FOR PRACTICE WE tried to dream up a descriptive paragraph of the same length that could be used for Campbell today. That's a tougher chore than first appears.

Even the form of municipal government has been changed in the past nine years. Instead of "Mayor-Council System", it is now "Council-Manager System".

To give you some idea of the other changes that can take place, Bob Stephens, who is into his fifth year as city manager, is actually this city's fourth city manager.

And the population which in 1958 was estimated at 8,500 is now almost 22,000....

But to get back to a brief description that could be used if we wanted to up-date the one used in the almanac. (For sure, "packing plants, canneries and metal industry" hardly can be used today).

How would you describe it?

One of the Cof C brochures suggests "Campbell, California where business and industry flourish".

That's not too bad, except it is a wee bit too general.

Another brochure broadcasts...."Campbell, the City with a Future".

The long-time slogan, Campbell, the orchard city", sort of falls flat, inasmuch as orchards are pretty hard to find around here today.

Still another map-brochure offers "The City on the go!"

But somehow those phrases, as catchy as they are, don't seem to do the job.

-0-

WHAT WE ARE TRYING to say is that no longer is this community dominated by any one industry as it was in the years past when Campbell was known as that "dirty little cannery town".

Unfortunately there are

City budget shows big increase

Civic improvement bonds put total past $2.7 million mark

A record-breaking preliminary city budget totaling $2,764,363 for the 1968-69 fiscal year, an increase of more than $900,000 over last year, will be submitted to the City Council next Monday, June 10, by City Manager Bob Stephens.

It will probably be late August, however, when the assessed valuation is reported and the city's reserves are "actual" and not "estimates", before it is known what the tax rate will be necessary to finance the city's operation during the next fiscal year.

An estimated 15-cent tax hike will be necessary to redeem the bonds that were sold last year.

The City Council could also decide to increase the rate even more, for the city manager's proposed budget makes no provision for additional personnel or any major expansion of city services.

Accounting for the major portion of the increase in the budget is $500,000 in general obligation bonds already sold and the anticipated sale of an additional $150,000 in bonds during the next fiscal year.

In his budget message, Stephens recommends that the Council delay the adoption of the final budget until the second week in August when actual amounts for assessed valuation and reserve-surpluses in all funds will be available.

The tax rate can then be set at that time, Stephens points out, as the County Assessor by then will have set the actual assessed valuation for the city.

Although the budget estimates that the general fund surplus this year will be $71,150 as compared to $48,041 at this time last year, Stephens indicated in his budget message, that the city will not be able to maintain the tax rate of $1.27 (for both bond indebtedness and general fund) as has been the case for the past eight years.

15-CENT HIKE

The city manager explains that an additional 15-cent rate per $100 assessed valuation will be necessary because of the sale of $500,000 in general obligation bonds (part of the $2,600,000 bond issue approved by the electorate in 1967). The 20-cent rate to pay off the street and storm drain bonds of 1958 must also be continued.

Stephens points out also that the $1.07 rate for the general fund will not raise enough money to provide for emergencies or unallocated needs during the fiscal year or to finance the $40,000 allocation to complete the long-needed maintenance center.

The city manager emphasizes in his budget message that a conservative approach was used in estimating the 1968-69 revenues.

As an interesting sidelight on the income side of the budget, for the first time in the history of the town, the income from the sales tax is estimated to exceed the property tax (using the $1.07 rate).

It is estimated that the sales tax will bring in $475,000 next year while the property tax income (exclusive of bond redemption) will be $463,000.

The preliminary budget makes no provision for new employees, the city manager points out, marking the second successive year that has been the case.

NO ADDITIONS

Stephens said that department heads had requested eight new full time employees (two each in the fire and police department and four in public works). The city manager said that the requests, which would cost $69,745 in first year salaries, were reasonable but that the city was not in the position at the present time to add the person-

Creek park dedication takes place Saturday

Sailing techniques, boat safety, and lifesaving will be demonstrated by experts this Saturday, June 8, at Los Gatos Creek County Park in Campbell.

The boat activity will feature dedication of Santa Clara County's newest recreation facility by Ralph H. Mehrkens, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, at 11 a.m. ceremonies. Henry Cary, of Campbell's Park and Recreation Commission, will be master of ceremonies. The new facility is within the city limits of Campbell.

Acceptance will be by B.V. Amyx, county Parks and Recreation Director. Principal speaker will be Hugh I. Schade, M.D. of Los Gatos, member of the Parks and Recreation Commission of the County.

The invocation and benediction will be said by the Rev. Daniel J. Sheehan, assistant pastor of St. Lucy's Catholic Church in Campbell.

The new park's attraction centers on 80 acres of percolation ponds leased without cost from the Water Conservation District and on a half-mile stretch of Los Gatos Creek bordering Highway 17 just south of the Camden Overpass. Creekside hiking trails connect with Vasona Lake County Park.

Legal roadblocks no problem

Planners may take first "tower" action tomorrow

Consideration of the civic center tower concept was still very much alive this week, as Fred Sahadi, local developer, indicated he could meet the legal demands laid down by City Attorney Joseph Bonacina in a 28-page "interim report".

And what will probably be the first official city action in the dramatic 17-story civic center tower issue could be taken by the Planning Commission tomorrow night (Thursday, June 6) when a civic center location is expected to be recommended by the planners.

Based on the commission's action, the second official act would occur at the City Council meeting on Monday, June 10 when the City Council acts on the commission's recommendation.

Legal roadblocks placed in the way of the imaginative civic center tower proposal present no major problem, Sahadi informed city officials this week.

Sahadi said that the legal changes in the specific elements of his basic proposal, as recommended by the city attorney, are acceptable to the developer.

The Planning Commission tomorrow night is scheduled to complete the public hearing and make recommendations on "public facilities". The session tomorrow was continued from the first emotionally-charged hearing on May 23 which lasted past midnight.

A divided vote by the commissioners, more or less reflecting the community's attitude, is expected tomorrow on the question. For during the six-weeks since the proposal was made by Fred Sahadi, both proponents and opponents have struck telling blows.

Although the Planning Commission has been cautioned to avoid discussion on the "legalities" of the proposal, the legal problems that had been raised by City Attorney Joseph Bonacina outside the Planning Commission have had a definite bearing on the overall situation, according to some of the commissioners.

Commissioner Dale Scott was especially annoyed by the city attorney's approach on the issue.

At the original public hearing it was brought out that the commission had not been informed that Bonacina had filed a 28-page interim report on the matter or what it contained but members of the audience were aware of this development. Bonacina was not present.

At Monday's meeting of the Planning Commission, Scott asked whether the city attorney planned to be present on Thursday at the hearing.

Bonacina replied that he had not intended to be present but had been requested by the city manager to be on hand.

A letter to city officials, made available to all planning commissioners at Monday's commission meeting, from Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel, his "partner" in the proposal, explained that the three major changes in the original proposal suggested by Bonacina could be made.

Basically the three points were:

(1) There would be no payments by the city by installments. When the building was completed, the city would pay a lump sum.

(2) The city must have the sole option to expand its occupancy to the entire building as its space requirements grow.

(3) The developer must furnish a bond or a tenant's performance policy to assure performance of the developer's obligations under the master lease.

With the letter was a modified proposal which reflected the changes suggested by Bonacina plus changes made necessary by the availability of Federal funds for additional library space.

County Librarian George Farrier has been informed that $200,000 is available in Fed-

Debate team enters national contest

Tim Sapp and John Brydon, both seniors at Campbell high school, will leave June 15 for St. Paul, Minnesota where they will take part in the National Forensic League national tournament.

This is only the second time in Campbell history that a debate team from the area has had an entry in the national tournament. The boys will be debating against 70 other district teams, and were chosen after qualifying in San Francisco Bay district which extends from San Francisco to Monterey. There are only five other teams from the state of California who have achieved this honor.

Tim and John have won 85% of their affirmative debates and 80% of their entire total. The local team also placed third in the State of California debates.

The national tournament will be conducted at Macalaster College and will last for five days, with each debate taking one hour. The Campbell duo have also entered in the extemporaneous speaking class, and will be debating on a current national event.

Theme for the entire tournament has been "Crime" and has included new ways to protect the individual and how to prevent crime.

Accompanying the boys from Campbell will be Mrs. Gail Long, Campbell speech instructor.

Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Dixon, 916 Buchnam Ave. and plans to attend Claremont College next year.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Brydon, 1140 W. Latimer Ave., John will be attending the University of Pacific.

City residence

The City Council has again "settled" the residency requirement for members of the Planning Commission.

The "settling" this time came in the form of a motion to continue with the present policy which allows members of the Planning Commission to live outside the city limits.

Although a number of councilmen had indicated that they favored the residential requirement, only Mayor Bill Smeed voted against the motion that continues the current policy.

Mayor Smeed maintained that the city was large enough so that it was unnecessary to go outside its corporate limits to find qualified personnel for the commission.

Only the Planning Commission is affected.

By law city councilmen must live within the city limits and city ordinance requires that members of the Park and Recreation Commission to reside within this city's boundaries.

We agree wholeheartedly with Mayor Smeed. We have long advocated that planning commissioners should be residents of the city for which they are the planning advisors and "recommenders".

We go even further.

We also believe that all city personnel should live within the city limits.

In all fairness to the four councilmen who voted to continue the current city policy, it should be emphasized that they all conceded that priority should be given city residents in appointments to the commission.

However, they felt that they should not be "tied down" to such a policy.

They felt that there might be times when it would be to the city's benefit to appoint a non-resident to the commission.

No one, however, ventured to illustrate when such an eventuality would arise.

This idea of residence vs. non-residence is nothing new. It has been up to bat on numerous occasions in the past.

Admittedly over the years The Press has been the strongest "booster" of the residence requirement for both commissioners and city staff personnel.

However, on numerous occasions in the past various city councilmen have also urged such a policy.

There is always the danger, when a councilman suggests that the residence requirement be adopted, that he will be accused of being "personal" in his attitude.

This is especially true, of course, when there are non-residents on the commission.

It will be claimed that the councilman who brings up the policy change was "out to get" the non-resident.

As a close observer of the city political scene for more than 12 years, we cannot recall a time when there has not been at least one non-resident on the Planning Commission.

That has not kept The Press from advocating the resident rule, although, in a number of instances, quite naturally, the non-resident commissioners have not been happy with our attitude on the matter.

Two of the commissioners, for example, do not live within the city limits.

We concede that they are good commissioners and are sincerely striving to do a good job.

We maintain, however, that they are not as effective as they would be if they resided within the city limits.

For the past seven years or more, councilmen have wrestled with the question of residential requirement for planning commissioners.

As early as 1961, a resolution was adopted specifying that commissioners must be qualified electors of the city.

And in 1965, the City Council even went as far as to draft an ordinance that specified the residence requirement for planning commissioners. The ordinance came within a hair's breath of being adopted.

The big issue then was over the clause in the proposed ordinance that specified that a commissioner's seat would be vacated, if he moved from the city.

Two of the councilmen felt that the commissioner should keep his seat, if he stayed within this city's sphere of influence.

The residence-requirement ordinance was given its "first reading" but was withdrawn when it came up for the "second reading" or adoption.

The councilmen after going that far (almost making an ordinance out of it) decided it should be a policy matter rather than an ordinance.

And that's the way it stands now...It's the policy that residence will be given priority. However, planning commissioners can still live outside the city limits.

Interesting enough, four cities, San Jose, Cupertino, Los Gatos and Saratoga, adjacent to Campbell, all require that commissioners be residents of their respective cities and, if a commissioner moves outside the city limits, he immediately vacates his seat on the commission.

We believe sincerely that Campbell is grown up enough now so that it is not necessary to go outside its limits to obtain commissioners.

We believe also that community spirit is not something that should be divided. It should be all the way.

We believe that a commissioner or city employee loses much of his effectiveness when he operates on the "don't do as I do but do as I say" approach.

And we believe that a community must build its own identity, with its own citizenry, toward goals set by its own leaders.

many around in the county yet who are unaware that the image of this community has undergone a change.

And despite the claim of former City Councilman Bob McElroy that this paper has over-emphasized this image bit, we maintain that "image" is extremely important to any community, especially in trying to overcome a bad aroma of the past.

That is the main reason we feel that having a civic center in a 17-story building, the tallest in the county, would make the long-needed change in this community's image.

Then, truly, the phrases, "the city with a future" and "the city on the go", could mean something.

We are well aware that many residents of this community do not feel as we do on this subject.

And they are also sincere in their feelings.

That's the way it should be. We sincerely hope that there will never come a day when we do not respect the other guy's point-of-view.

Admittedly, in the heat of battle, emotions unfortunately sometimes get the upper hand. And your editor is no exception in that failing, although he tries to keep his perspective.

And, you know something, not having a crystal ball makes it tough for all of us to know just which way to fly.

If it was possible to look ahead 10 years, with any degree of certainty, there would be many changes in viewpoint by all of us.

But then there would be no challenges, guesswork or dreams.

And that would be sort of dull.

Wouldn't it?

"AS A TAXPAYER....."

That's a traditional salute that has been used historically in this country for many, many years, generally by those who are critical of the administration of some governmental agency, whether on a local, county, state or national level.

There is nothing wrong in such a salutation, although in this day and age very few people are exempt from being taxpayers of one sort or another.

There is a danger, in our opinion, however, on the local level when someone prefaces his statements with this "as a taxpayer" routine that he is inviting a comparison that well could put him on the short end of the stick.

Especially is that true when people refer to bond issues, etc.

In many cases, we think that it would be better to use: "As a citizen who is proud of his community"—rather than "As a taxpayer".

We thought of that the other night at the public hearing on the civic center locations.

The proposal of Fred Sahadi that the civic center be located in a 17-story building was subjected to considerable criticism and abuse at the hearing.

Many of those who were the most critical of Sahadi, started out by saying, "As a taxpayer who supported the bond issue....."

We find no fault with that approach....except—

Fred Sahadi could have used the same introduction.

It so happens that Sahadi is the SECOND largest property taxpayer within the city limits...Only IBM pays a higher tax than he does.

So Fred could say..."As a taxpayer who supported the bond issue.....

And that's a sizeable chunk of dough for taxes that he shells out each year.

Compared to the rest of us, that is.

-0-

IN SOME INSTANCES, Sahadi was made out as villian at the worst or an interloper at the best, instead of being respected as this community's second largest taxpayer.

Some critics of the tower concept happily indicated that they were willing to pay more taxes to build the so-called street loop system to revive the downtown core.

We estimated in one case that Sahadi was paying 200 times more taxes than the individual who so vociferously endorsed financing the loop system for downtown streets by more bonds.

We are not arguing that the size of one's tax bill should be the criteria in these matters and regulate one's civic opinion.

Maybe we are prejudiced... And we hope we are wrong.

But we did get the impression that Sahadi was being treated as an "outsider" by some of the critics of his proposal and to a certain degree by the city attorney.

We feel that Sahadi's present investment in his community alone entitled him to an "insider" status.

eral funds to add to the city's $400,000 bond money which would increase the library space from 6,000 to 12,000 square feet.

According to the proposal, the City will select a three-acre site of the 34-acre former Brynteson Ranch on which a 17-story building will be erected in which the civic cente will use the first five floors.

When the building is completed title to it and the land will be conveyed free and clear to the city. A master lease will be retained by the developer for the upper floors for a term of 55 years.

The city will pay the developer $1,435,000 for the building, of which $1,235,000 is from bond funds and $200,000 the additional Federal grant for the library.

The civic center area will comprise a total of 42,000 square feet with 24,000 for library and 19,000 for city administration and police.

Of the 24,000 square feet allocated for the library, 10,000 square feet will be on the first floor.

More or less lost in the shuffle because of the predominance of the civic center tower are three other phases of the public hearing on "public facilities". They also must be acted upon by the Planning Commission and subsequently the City Council as part of the overall modification of the general plan under the "701" planning program.

After a decision is reached on the civic center, the commissioners will discuss fire stations, public schools, and the maintenance service center.

But it is doubtful that the SRO crowd that is again expected at the hearing will stick around much after the civic center issue is decided tomorrow night by the planners.

That is, if it is.

City budget

nel.

By law the City Council could raise the tax rate an additional 47 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the city manager explains, which would bring in another $188,000.

Stephens said that the government code allows the city to levy 25 cents in pension costs (only seven cents is now levied); one cent for civil defense; 6.5 cents for parks and recreation and 14.5 cents for planning.

One of the bright points of the budget report, Stephens indicates in his budget message, is the slow but steady improvement in the general fund surplus-reserves made during the past four years.

In 1965 the reserves dropped to the dangerously low point of $3,874 but have now climbed to the estimated $71,250 that will be on hand on June 30.

OBJECTIVES

In his message, City Manager Stephens listed seven budget objectives for the next fiscal year:

1. To provide the basic municipal services required for a community of 23,000 citizens.

2. To continue to employ, train and retain competent city employees and to provide the highest level of service the City can afford to provide in numbers of employees, with equitable wages and benefits.

3. To encourage continuing citizens interest and participation in local governmental activities.

4. To continue to develop programs designed to create a favorable climate to the business and industrial community.

5. To efficiently execute the capital improvement programs approved for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

6. To complete the second phase of the building program at the city's maintenance center with a minimum expenditure of $40,000.

7. To maintain a minimum general fund surplus-reserves of $50,000 included $50,000 anticipated salary savings.

SUMMARY

In his summing up the preliminary budget, Stephens stressed; that the "Campbell of Tomorrow holds a great potential"....

"Decisions made during the fiscal year of 1968-69 by the people through their elected officials, appointed advisory commissions and professional staff will have a greater impact upon the future of this City than during any other one year in the history of the City.

"This challenge of decision making in a vital community should be welcomed not feared

"This proposed budget is submitted with this challenge in mind because we believe it is financially sound in its approach to the problems faced by this municipal corporation."

Beautification group to meet

Campbell's Citizens Beautification Committee, headed by Mrs. Jeanette Watson, will meet this evening at 7:30 in the city hall to discuss the current national city clean-up contest that this community has entered.

Rules of the contest specify that a city must have a committee in existence engaged in clean-up campaign period for a continuous period of four months or longer.

Under the guidance of the local committee, a number of major projects have already been undertaken including the clean-up day on May 4 when 125 tons of debris were removed from the city.

In addition, tulip trees were planted and elementary school students assisted in cleaning up a shopping center.

New programs in the continuous campaign will be outlined at the meeting this evening.

Planners defer action on big housing project

In a fast-moving meeting, the Planning Commission on Monday night approved plans for four buildings but deferred action until June 17 on a zone change for a parcel on the north side of W. Hacienda Ave. on which, it was reported, a $3 million project is planned by Central Development Co.

The parcel is the Turturici property on which the Big Boy Market formerly operated. The developers have indicated that they plan to build 212 apartments on the parcel and have asked the zoning be changed from C-1-S to R-3-S. One portion on the west end would remain commercial for a small commercial center.

The commissioners decided to defer action to allow for further study of the tentative plans of the development as well as to check how the density would compare with that recommended by the '701' plan.

The commissioners approved the request of Union Oil for a six months extension on the expiration date for the service station planned at Hamilton and Central. Also approved was the pre-zoning to M-1-S of three parcels on White Oaks, 1320, 1340 and 1360. The parcels are being annexed to the city.

Building plans approved were (1) for an industrial building at 479 Salmar submitted by the Devlin Corporation; (2) for office and warehouse at 374 McGlincey submitted by John W. Culbreth, Jr.; (3) for two office buildings at 101 W. Hamilton submitted by Peter Paulson and (4) for a five-unit apartment at 237 N. Central submitted by Walter J. Ballard.

Approved also was the application of Joseph Giannini for a lot split on the west side of S. Bascom to allow for parking in the rear for the new Sherman-Williams paint store constructed there.

The okay (a repeat performance) was also given Riley & Cuffe for a subdivision located north of McGlincey Lane.

Team to operate city department

Until a new planning director is employed (perhaps by September), the city's planning department will operate on a sort of team effort, City Manager Bob Stephens reported this week.

Dick Hogan, this city's planning director for more than three years, on June 1 became planning director of San Mateo

Stephens said that Bob Rigsby has been named acting planning director. Jerry Scott will be secretary of the Planning Commission with Mrs. Evelyn Adamson, long-time planning department employee, as coordinator in the department.

Planners hold area hearings next Tuesday

Next Tuesday, June 11, the Planning Commission will attempt to wind up the public hearings on the specific area plans as recommended by the city's planning consultant under the '701' federal planning grant.

For the purpose of modifying this city's general plan that was adopted in 1961, the '701' program divided Campbell into three specific areas.

Area I is the San Tomas Expressway area; Area II is the central city area and Area III is the San Tomas neighborhood area.

Hearings were called for each area separately but only the hearing on Area II was completed. The commission adopted the plan as presented for the downtown section which included the loop system which provides one-way streets on both sides of Campbell Ave.

The hearings on both the San Tomas Expressway area Area I) and the San Tomas neighborhood area (Area III) were continued to June 11.

After the commission finishes its hearings and makes recommendations, the council will conduct similar sessions.

DRAG STRIP OPENS

That teen-age delight, the Fremont Drag Strip, will be open Saturday for the summer schedule, starting at 1 p.m. with time trials rolling at 2 p.m.

VIRUS

The virus diseases, as a group, account for approximately 14,000 deaths a year in the United States.

City Council meets Monday

A brief examination of the preliminary budget as submitted by City Manager Bob Stephens and the setting of hearings on it and possible action on the civic center tower will feature the City Council meeting next Monday, June 10.

The tower action will depend on what the Planning Commission does tomorrow night. The council will not act until the commission does.

Another item on the agenda is a complaint filed by Jack Craig on the industrial area on Dell Ave. against Bob's Body Shop in the same area. The complaint alleges that the body shop constitutes a fire hazard to the immediate area.

Downtown group meets Thursday

Members of the Downtown Revitalization Committee, headed by John E. Faber, will meet Thursday at 7:30 a.m. to discuss the city plans for improvement of Campbell Ave. and the location of the civic center.

Bill Wren, public works director, will lead the discussion on the improvement of Campbell Ave. while City Manager Bob Stephens will compare the two civic center sites under consideration, "downtown" or "the tower".

The committee will be asked to make recommendations to the City Council on both matters.

Kris displays bird hobby

An interesting display of bird figurines collected by 11 year old Kris Jackson, is now on display at the Campbell Library, 349 E. Campbell Ave. This is one of the series of "hobby" displays that are a part of the increasing use of the library facilities besides just "reading".

The birds, of glazed and unglazed china and porcelain, have been collected for a number of years and represent several authentic wild life replicas as well as the barnyard varieties of fowls.

Kris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, 2934 Vivian Dr., San Jose.

Hobby sign-ups are still being taken in the library and both adults and children are welcome. An antique glass display is scheduled for the next showing.

Jaycees installation plans include roast pig

Allan Blaine has three sons and like all small sons, they like to dig holes in the ground But Allan, unlike other fathers who eventually fill the holes up, has volunteered his "holes in the ground" for the annual Campbell JayCee's installation luau, and a whole pig with all the Hawaiian trimmings, will be roasted over hot lava rocks as the piece de resistance this Saturday night.

The Blaine residence, 133 Potomac Dr., Los Gatos, will be the place, the decorations all Hawaiian, guests are cautioned to wear their Hawaiian shirts and Muumuus, and the entertainment will be by the Lei Aloha dancers, who have entertained professionally in the western states. The pig roasting will be under the direction of Roger Hughes, Campbell JayCee member, who is a native of Hawaii.

Festivities are due to start at 7 p.m. and approximately 75 JayCees, their wives and guests are anticipating a wonderful time.

Installation ceremonies will be conducted during the evening with Jerry Gomes being installed as president of the active organization. Other officials who will be sworn into office include Nozer Haladwala, vice president; Mike Kennedy and Yvonne Boudreault, directors; Verl Weitzel, treasurer; and Mike Van Duyn, secretary.

Dignitaries in attendance will include District Governor Don King who is also a member of the Campbell JayCees and Bill Hamilton, past state president of the California JayCees. Master of Ceremonies for the occasion will be Fred LaCosse.

READY FOR FALL--Mrs. F. Albert Ellis, right, offers a token gift to Mrs. William Cave, following installation rites which saw Mrs. Cave take office as the new president of the Country Woman's Club of Campbell last Monday. The club women have adjourned until fall when an opening luncheon is planned for Sept. 23.

Country Woman's Club installs Mrs. Cave as new president

Amid signs warning "keep off the grass" and "do not pick the flowers", Mrs. William Cave took office as president of the Country Woman's Club of Campbell last Monday. Setting was the clubhouse, where an "old fashioned picnic" was held under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Jacobson.

"Snakes in the grass" and "spiders" adorned the table and the corner decoration was a real bay tree. 'Do not feed the animals" was the admonition, but evidences of picnic baskets and coffee pots overturned indicated to the contrary.

Serious time was taken for the installation rites, conducted by Mrs. F. Albert Ellis, who invested as officers in addition to Mrs. Cave, Mrs. Milton Howe, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Belvin, second vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Tober, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. L. Anderson, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Gerber, treasurer; Mrs. Dean Chamberlin, parliamentarian and Mrs. C. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Roy Miehe, directors at-large.

Outgoing president, Mrs. Chamberlin was afforded a standing ovation by the membership.

Committee members assisting Mrs. Jacobson were Mrs. Charles Myers, Mrs. David Sanders, Mrs. Herbert Singleton and Mrs. Ann Glover.

County wide anti-rabies clinics Sunday, June 9

The Santa Clara County Health Department and the Santa Clara Valley Veterinary Medical Association are again working together to prepare a county wide anti-rabies vaccination program.

Over 50 Veterinarians and helpers will combine forces on Sunday, June 9 to man clinics in eight area locations from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The Veterinary Association and the Veterinary Assistants Association are providing the necessary help to complete the paper work involved. An estimated 7,000 dogs will be vaccinated during the 4 hours of the clinics.

Bring your dog to one of these locations for vaccination:

COUNTY FAIRGROUNDS, Senior judging ring & adjacent parking lot. Use West gate off Tully Rd.

COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT, Moorpark & Bascom Ave. parking area between Mental Health and Administration bldg.

LOS GATOS, Town Hall parking lot, 110 E. Main St.

SANTA CLARA, City Corporation Yard, Main & Poplar St.

SARATOGA, City Hall parking lot, 13777 Fruitvale Ave.

Dogs may be vaccinated and licensed at each location. Vaccination is $1.50 - License fee $2 for County license. State law requires that all dogs four months or older must be vaccinated and licensed.

Dr. Philip Haims, Chief of the Santa Clara County Veterinary Health Division stated that two cases of Rabies have been confirmed in the County in 1968 and an effective rabies control program must be maintained in order to keep the disease in check.

Rabies is carried mainly by bats, skunks and dogs. Since dogs are more in contact with people the public is asked to cooperate in this program to vaccinate as many dogs as possible.

GRAND THEFT

Thieves with a knowledge of diesel tractor engines unbolted two super charges and one manifold for a diesel tractor as the tractor units were parked at 175 Casey Rd., owned by the W.S.P Inco. Co. The tractors were property of individual drivers who contracted the units out, according to Fred A. Bensberg, owner of the storage yard.

The units were valued at $1,750. The theft occurred early Sunday morning.

QUITO LITTLE LEAGUE STANDINGS

SENIOR DIVISION

Brad Helder of the Bees and Mike Hart of the Cubs led their respective teams to opening day wins on May 25.

Helder, normally an outfielder, turned to the mound, and recorded his first win, 4-2 over the Cardinals.

In addition to his pitching, Brad helped the cause with two hits, one a double.

Mike Hart pitched a three-hitter, striking out 14, and hit two doubles, scoring one run and driving in another. But Mike needed a stolen base by Pete Gomez and an overthrow to give him an eight inning 3-2 victory over the Dodgers.

In action Sunday, the Pirates clobbered the Orioles 15-4 to grab a portion of first place, and the Bees came back to the Seals 4-4, despite three hits by the Seals' Joe Kovar.

MAJOR DIVISION

Leading the Major Division is the San Tomas Village Phils.

The Phils have relied on the battery of Dennis Palm and Terry Hart. While with Keith Van Amberg and Dave Guydish the Phils have the strongest third base-shortstop combination in the league.

Vying with the Phils for the top spot are the Herion Roofing Indians and the A & L Trucking Lions.

Relying on Rich Michelmore's four home runs the Indians are 6-3, while the Lions utilize the talents of Steve Churchill and Jerry Porter to a 6-3 mark.

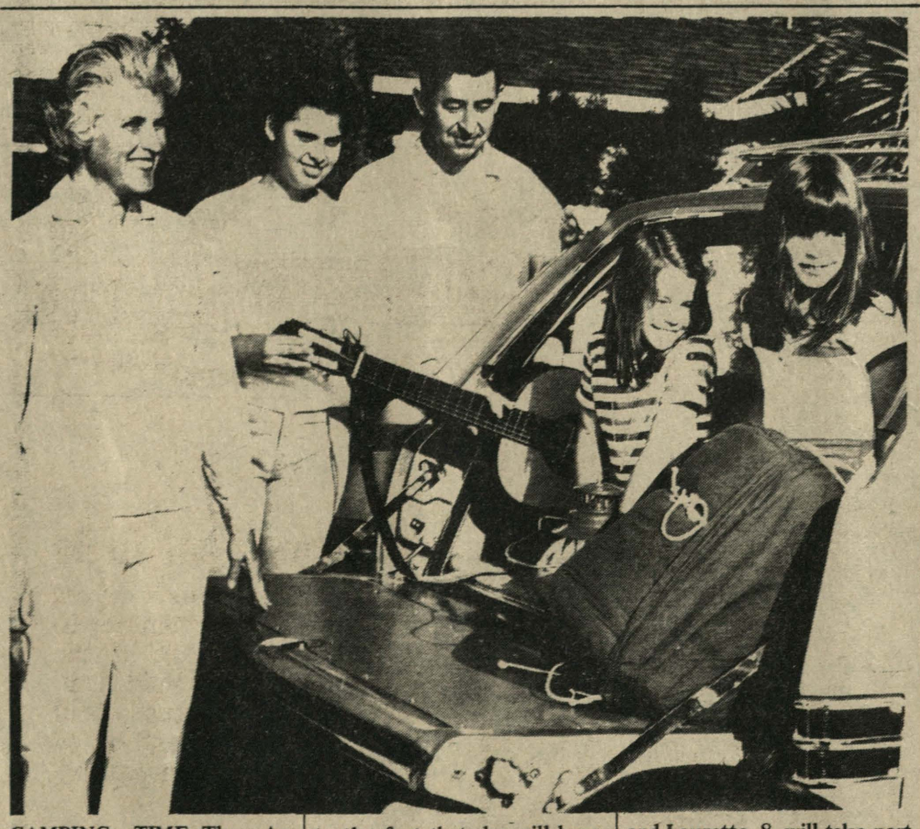
The emphasis will be on group, rather than individual instruction. However, the class limited to 45 persons, will be broken into smaller groups for the application of skills under supervision of area professionals.

For further information you may contact the Office of Community Services at 379-1733.



CAMPING TIME--The Anthony Sota family, of 2222 Central Park Dr., are getting an early start for the San Jose Family Camp on the Tuolumne River. They were one of the first families to sign up for the summer's vacation.

Campbell boy dies after bike accident

Campbell's first fatality of the year occurred Wednesday afternoon, May 29, when 11 year old Robert P. Torres, Jr. was killed after riding his bike into a pick-up truck driven by Rito Perez, Jr., 26, of Gilroy. Perez was driving approximately 25 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

The accident occurred on W. Hacienda Ave., as Perez was driving east on Hacienda Ave. and the Torres boy apparently failed to judge the distance and pulled into the front of the car while pedaling south across the street, striking the left front portion of the car. No citation was issued.

The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Torres, 1721 Pollard Rd. was taken to Valley Medical Hospital and pronounced dead on arrival.

Funeral services were held Saturday, June 1, from the Lima-Salmon-Erickson chapel with Requiem Mass celebrated at St. Clare's Church. Robert is survived by his parents, and brothers and sister, Richard, Raymond and Rena; his grandparents, Mrs. Lupe Torres of Farmersville, Jesse Torres, Hollister and Mrs. Calletana Ponce of Santa Clara. He was also the great grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Moreno of Santa Clara.

IRENE G. KOPP

Final services were conducted Tuesday for Irene G. Kopp, 84, 1101 Erin Way, who passed away Saturday following a long illness. A native of Virginia City, Nev., Mrs. Kopp had spent 70 years in Santa Clara County. She was the widow of the late Henry L. Kopp, a millwright.

Services were conducted at the Chapel of the Santa Clara Funeral Home with the Rev. Edward Jennens, pastor of the Unity Church of San Jose officiating.

Mrs. Kopp leaves her daughter, Mrs. Barbara I. Lawless of Campbell with whom she made her home in the last few years, a son, Jack I. Kopp of Santa Clara; a grandson, Christopher R. Lawless and a granddaughter, Kathleen Kopp.

A member of the Santa Clara Chapter 195, OES, private interment was in the Los Gatos Memorial Park.

ANTONE DOMACIN

Requiem Mass was said this morning at 9 a.m. at St. Lucy's Catholic Church for Antone (Tony) Domacin, 83, who passed away Saturday in a local rest home following a long illness. Domacin made his home at 206 Central Ave.

A retired orchardist, Domacin was a native of Majkovi, Yugoslavia, and had lived in this country since 1911. He was a member of the American Dalmation Benevolent Society of San Jose.

He leaves two sisters, Mrs. M. Biskup and Miss Catherine Domacin, both of Majkovi.

Recitation of the Rosary was held Tuesday in the Darling-Fischer & Faber Campbell Memorial Chapel with final interment in the Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

CYRIL HARTMAN

Final rites were conducted Saturday June 1 for Cyril Baldwin Hartman, 63, of 186 Radford Dr., who passed away suddenly Thursday afternoon following a heart attack.

A native of Pennsylvania, Hartman served as a minister, sales manager and account executive for the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Co. in New York City, where he was instrumental in founding the nation-wide eye bank now sponsored by Lions International.

Hartman had resided in Campbell for three years prior to his death. A Phi Beta Kappa member, he earned his doctorate from the University of Heidelburg, Germany in 1932. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Bette June Hartman; three sons, Cyril Hartman, Jr. of Portland, Oregon; David Hartman of Hollywood and Christopher Hartman of Miami, Florida; two step children, Daniel Mackenzie of Fresno and Mrs. Sandra Wiebe of Lancaster, Pa; two grandchildren and three brothers.

Services were conducted by the Rev. K. L. Sandercock under the direction of the Darling Fisher & Faber's Chapel of the Hills, Los Gatos with final interment in the Los Gatos Memorial Park.

Careless bike riders show accident rise

An increasing number of incidents where children riding bikes have suffered injuries because they have violated safety laws and regulations, has prompted John Morgan, Campbell police chief, to issue a warning that violaters will be severely reprimanded in the future and possible other actions taken. During the last week one boy was killed and several injured because children have ridden their bikes into the traffic lanes without due caution, and have run into moving cars.

Ten year old Lorie Keenman, 461 Kings Ct. suffered a broken middle finger, right hand and numerous abrasions after riding her bike out of the grounds of the First Baptist Church on Llewellyn Ave. She collided with a car being driven by John Charles Cordill, Jr., 22, 1419 San Tomas Aquino Rd., who was familiar with the bike riding habits of the children in the area, and was proceeding cautiously when the accident occurred.

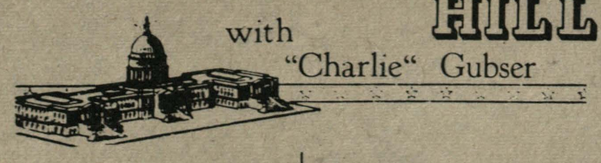
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



The public eye is understandably focused upon Vietnam and the tremendous military commitment this nation has made in Southeast Asia. As a result very little has been written about the state of our military affairs in the rest of the world.

During Secretary McNamara's administration of the Defense Department, the system of "cost effectiveness" (which is useful and valid in many respects) dominated most decision making in the Pentagon. The Secretary had a near mania for planning defense procurement in a manner which would do the job with no wasted surplus. Often in disregard of his military advisors, the Secretary would make his own estimate of what a future war would be like; how long it would last, what weapons would be used, and what it would cost. And then he would order accordingly with no surplus for unexpected contingencies.

Such planning might be well and good if the former Secretary's forecasts had been accurate. But he did miscalculate! Remember his statements; "The boys will be home by Christmas", "We've stopped losing and started winning", and "We can see light at the end of the tunnel".

The truth is that we have weakened our strength in Europe by transferring men and equipment to Southeast Asia. During the PUEBLO incident Korea had no operational bombers and the Mediterranean Fleet is figuratively held together with scotch tape.

In private industry a "cost effectiveness" judgment which errs on the side of caution may cause sales to lag, but in the following year the problem can be corrected. But in national defense we do not get a second chance.

One of the most serious deficiencies under McNamara's regime was the manner in which this nation fell behind the Soviet Union in military research and development. Long ago Russia determined to dominate the military research and development field. Her progress has never fluctuated with events like the death of Stalin, a presidential election, the diversion of funds to serve a new social program, or the launching of a Sputnik. Russia has pressed relentlessly forward in every field including manned bombers and military space–fields in which our effort has either been stopped or seriously curtailed. The United States' effort, on the other hand, has gone in fits, gasps, and spurts. Today military research and development is down by 60%!

When one considers that the time between research which produces an idea and the actual production of a weapon system is ten to fifteen years, the steady and relentless progress of the Soviet Union should be cause for concern.

Could Secretary McNamara's decision that the Russian Bear is becoming docile be another of his bad guesses? It could be.

Camden Capers

By Caren Daniels

As the school year nears its close, end-of-the-year activities heighten. The main event of the week will be the presentation of yearbooks. Seniors were given the privilege of receiving "Memini" today, two days ahead of the underclassmen. The annual Yearbook Dance will top off the week on Friday night, as Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors get their yearbooks, and all student body members sign the memory reminders. Entertainment for those who wish to dance will be provided by the juke box.

Wednesday (today) is a big day for seniors in many ways. The deadline to pay cap and gown fees, senior bills and library fines fall on delinquent graduates. Highlighting the day is the last Senior Recreation Night of the year. Swimming, pool, badminton, basketball, table tennis, volleyball and baseball will be offered to the energetic set.

Nearly 38 sophomore, junior and senior GAA'ers will be presented with awards at the annual GAA Mother-Daughter Banquet, planned for tonight at the Sveden House.

The dinner and recognition evening will honor previous GAA commissioners, a prominent speaker, new and old commission members, athletic members and their mothers, and devoted GAA advisors. Retiring Commissioner Carol Daniels will officially turn over her job to Cathy Fernandes during the course of the program.

Based on a compiled number of points from sports and fund-raising activities over their years in GAA, the female sports enthusiasts will be awarded with gold pins, guards and emblems, and various trophies.

"Please Knock A Homerun For Me" is the speech to be presented by Rev. Shirley T. Sherrill, pastor of the Cambrian Park Methodist Church, at Camden's annual Baccalaureate service Sunday evening, June 9.

Parents of the graduating class of '68 and those seniors wishing to attend the formal event will meet in the inner quad at 5 p.m. Music will be provided by Camden's choir and orchestra.

Rev. Sherrill will also give the benediction at the close of the service.

Four days of practice are hopefully all that will be needed by seniors before the graduation exercises. Thursday, Friday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 6,7,11 and 12, have been set aside for the 337 graduating seniors to go through the set-up and run-through of commencement. Seniors will not be required to practice on graduation day if previous exercises prove successful.

Having achieved first place in the West Valley Athletic League, Camden baseball men have gone on to the California Coast Sectional competition. Last Tuesday evening the Cougars faced Piedmont Hills, and proved their position with a win of 5-0, pitched by Rich Troedson. Yesterday's match at Municipal Stadium was against Pioneer, and the next game will put the Cougars up against Homestead.

Letters to the Editor

RESTROOMS LOCKED

Dear Mr. Editor:

As a homeowner and taxpayer of the City of Campbell, I feel it my duty to express my opinion on what the City Council of Campbell might consider minor at the present. It is a matter very important to every citizen, and to all future citizens of Campell.

Yesterday, on Sunday, May 26, 1968, I took my three children to the Campbell City Park on Campbell Ave. with plans of spending the afternoon. The park is a beautiful place and the day was perfectly beautiful for the occasion. I couldn't understand at the time why there were so few people in the park, (approximately 30 people).

Soon after arriving, I realized why. On visiting the Rest Rooms with the children we found them locked. Isn't it strange? Altho some of the parents were taking their children behind a tree, I found this to be in very poor taste and an inexcusable action.

The taxpayers pay to have a beautiful park like this built and maintained, but are unable to use it other than for short periods of time, because the facilities are not open.

I left with three unhappy children in order to find a restroom available. One we stopped at was out of order in a service station close by. We had to drive further on past Winchester Blvd., which was tied up with traffic because the signals were out of order. We finally stopped at another service station.

We decided to go to Vasona and to Oak Meadow Park to try our luck. The parks were so filled up that we couldn't find a parking place within walking distance to the park. We went back to our own back yard; utter disappointment on the part of the children.

On talking to Mr. Hickman of the Park Maintenance Dept. I learned that the Campbell City Park restrooms are only open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays. He said the restrooms were 'torn apart' on weekends and in the evenings. It was also stated that there was not enough money to pay someone to maintain the restrooms on weekends.

This is a very poor excuse indeed, considering the taxes we pay for a park. We need, and should be able to use these facilities at all times.

It was suggested to me that a few Community Minded People donate their time on weekends to watch these restrooms, because it costs so much money to repair them, or hire someone to watch them on the now closed hours.

This is absolutely ridiculous!

I am for progress in the City of Campbell, but I'm beginning to wonder just how I will vote on the next bond issue appropriating funds for more parks. The City can't even maintain properly, the ones we have available to us now.

The City Planning Commission and government wish to beautify the City with a 17 story tower, turn a residential Blvd. into a thru way for a planned Freeway, build a park where it shouldn't be, let orchards be removed for proposed low income housing units.

All of these proposals have been made recently, which will cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars. And yet the City of Campbell just can't seem to find the funds to have the already existing Park restrooms maintained. Maybe this is one of the reasons some of the past bond issues have failed.

If our City is to be beautified and allowed to grow as it should, then it is about time the taxpayers money is appropriated fully for exactly that purpose. Each improvement should be followed through with complete maintenance.

Our Police Dept. should take care of the offenders who take away the privileges of many.

If we can afford progress, then we can afford to preserve it for the citizens who are interested in paying their taxes to live here. Or perhaps the City of Campbell should be happy with what they have now and forget progress.

I am sure there are many citizens who feel the same as I do! Do they have the time and initiative to express their views on this subject?

What is the answer from our City government on these issues?

Sincerely,
Mrs. A. W. Cook

School district offers special summer music program

groups have already been scheduled in concerts throughout

A new program in the arts is being offered by the Campbell Union High School District as part of the total summer program.

The School of Fine Arts to be held on the Campbell High School campus will run from June 17 through August 2.

With a format unique in secondary education, the school will offer a complete Conservatory of Music.

Lessons and classes in piano, guitar, all orchestral and band instruments, voice, composition, arranging, music theory, music appreciation, basic musicianship, and special projects for advanced students will provide unusual opportunities for high school students of the area.

In addition to the individualized lessons and schedules students will have opportunities to develop their own small chamber music and ensemble groups–these range from classical to the teen-age contemporary music.

The conservatory will assist by providing professional guidance and coaching to allow the groups to develop their own styles and skills.

Formal large and small groups in the Santa Clara Valley. A complete series of programs ranging from string orchestra to modern jazz ensembles have been scheduled in the pavillion and amphitheater at Old Town in Los Gatos.

An invitation to the performing groups to present programs at the California Exposition in Sacramento has been accepted.

One of the outstanding features of the Conservatory will be a new singing and dancing group in the style of the Young Americans and the Doddle-Town Pipers.

Students will be chosen by audition from those attending the school. A special arranger has been employed to write original scores for this group. Instructors in costuming and choreography will help develop a professional appearance.

The Conservatory, in conjunction with the school of Theater Arts, will offer two musicals during the seven weeks. The first, "The Fantasticks" will be presented in mid July. The uncut broadway version of the show "Music Man" will be presented in five performances beginning August 2.

In order to involve interested students in avante garde and contemporary composition, an electronic-tape music laboratory will be available for experimentation in this fast developing new field.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD No. 15
By Nan Warren

Wednesday, June 5, seems to be the big day for big doings for three Junior troops in Neighborhood 15.

Troop 1030, Quito School, will have their Court of Awards at which three Girl Scout leaders will be honored along with the girls receiving badges. Mrs. Louise Darcich, Mrs. Pat Lund and Mrs. Val Slankard will be presented with 5 year pins.

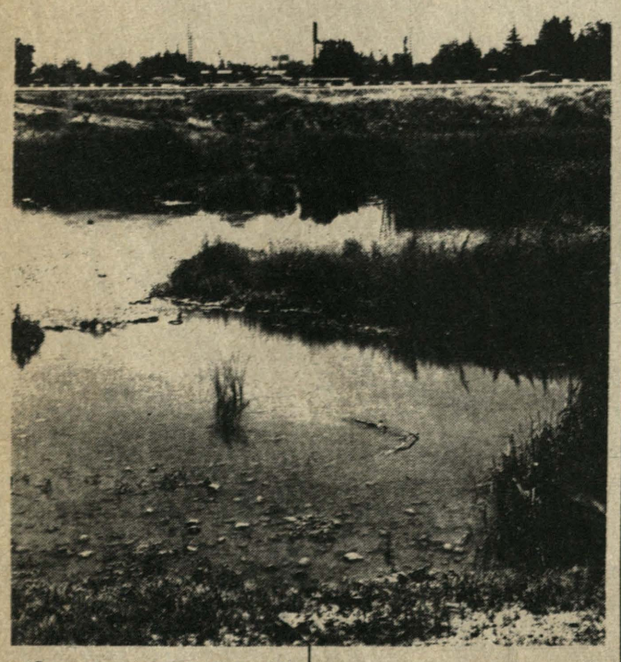
Troop 953, Forest Hills School, is having a "bridging event" for the Brownies of Troop 730, to acquaint them with the Junior level of scouting. The program will include such things as patrol systems, symbols and in general–how a Junior troop runs. There will be a candle light closing.

COURT OF AWARDS

Capri Juniors, Troop 371, will also be having their Court of Awards. Badges, earned by the troop members, will be presented along with their year starts. The girls have planned the decorations, exhibits, refreshments and program for this event. Parents, families and a few special guests will be present.

There's a big "blow out" in the wind for the Baker Brownies and Juniors! Maybe "cook-out" would be a better choice of words. Brownie Troops 602 and 767 and the Baker Jr.'s, Troop 169 are planning a hayride and cook-out at Rancho Santa Theresa on June 9. Sounds like a marvelous way to climax a year of hard work.

This entire week will be a very busy one for the park rangers at Vasona. They are about to be invaded by volunteer mothers and Girl Scout leaders who will be having "on site training" for summer Day Camps. Different Camp Directors will hold training throughout this week and part of next. It proves to be a busy summer ahead but guaranteed to be full of fun for Girl Scouts of all ages!



FLOWING TRAFFIC–Beside freeway is half-mile stretch of Los Gatos Creek. New County park in Campbell will be dedicated next Saturday morning, June 8.
